

THINGS
DON'T REALLY
EXIST
UNTIL
YOU GIVE THEM A
NAME

Unpacking urban heritage

Rachel Lee, Diane Barbé, Anne-Katrin Fenk and Philipp Misselwitz (eds.)

CONTENTS

		Joy Mboya and Judy Ogana	100-105
		Dante's walk. Markers of place in an informal settlement: The Nai Ni Who festival in Nairobi
		Walter Bgoya, Rachel Lee and Diane Barbé	106-111
		Urithi mijini: Activism, preservation policies and demolitions in Dar es Salaam
		Laura J. Murray	112-117
		Balancing celebration and critique in community history: A case study from Canada
		Alexander Römer	118-123
		Dar Stool
Contents	4-7	Samaila Suleiman	124-129
		Politics of heritage: Ethnic minorities and the politics of heritage in northern Nigeria
Rachel Lee and Philipp Misselwitz	8-19	Rebecca Corey and John Kitime	130-135
Introduction – Things don't really exist until you give them a name: Unpacking urban heritage		Beyond "preservation": Tanzania's heritage music
Diane Barbé, Anne-Katrin Fenk and Rachel Lee	20-43	Susanne Förster, Georg Krajewsky and Jona Schwerer	136-141
Talking cities: Urban narratives from Dar es Salaam and Berlin		Activating German colonial heritage: Berlin's Afrikanisches Viertel
Diane Barbé, Anne-Katrin Fenk and Rachel Lee	44-61	Cloud Chatanda	142-147
Studying urban heritage from below: Towards a toolkit		Park Life
Global case studies	62-63	Anooradha Iyer Siddiqi	148-153
KUNSTrePUBLIK: Matthias Einhoff, Philip Horst and Harry Sachs	64-69	A shadow heritage of the humanitarian colony: Dadaab's foreclosure of the urban historical
Narratives from the niches of urban life		Awami Art Collective: Sehr Jalil and Naira Mushtaq	154-159
Umesh Maddanahalli	70-75	The sky drew some new lines
TYRE		Paul Ndunguru	160-165
Hannah le Roux	76-85	Cold Feet
Heritage is moving		Gözde Şarlak	166-173
Johan Lagae, Sofie Boonen and Sam Lanckriet	86-93	Mobilizing heritage movements for urban commons: The case of Istanbul's vegetable gardens
Navigating "off radar": The heritage of liminal spaces in the city center of colonial/postcolonial Lubumbashi, DR Congo		Annika Seifert and Comfort Badaru	174-179
Nadin Reschke	94-99	DARCH! Conflicted heritage and civil activism in Dar es Salaam
Parallel Encounters

Rishika Mukhopadhyay Intangibility in heritage conservation: Prospects of Kolkata's Chinatown	180-185	Michelle Monareng The Lie of the Land	266-271
Patrick Mudekereza Rue de la Résistance	186-191	Juliane Richter and Hannah Sieben When space becomes a place: The RASTER : BETON Festival in the large housing estate of Leipzig-Grünau	272-279
Benjamin Häger Un/shared heritage: The artwork MONUMENT in Dresden as a controversial subject	192-199	Stephen Zacks and Jerome Chou Heritage activation: Reclaiming the present and future city in Flint, Michigan	280-287
Stephan Becker and Tassilo Letzel New zones for old buildings: A daydream about unlocking hidden potentials	200-205	KUNSTrePUBLIK and Jan van Esch Gyms in Dar	288-293
Cord Pagenstecher Forced Labour: The Testmony App by Berlin History Workshop	206-213	Ana Luisa Carmona Ribeiro A year in the Sertão: University, artistic creation and community in Brazil's interior	294-301
Tellervo Kalleinen and Oliver Kochta-Kalleinen Tracking Dar es Salaam	214-219	Shraddha Bhatawadekar Heritage walks: A first step in urban heritage activism in Mumbai	302-309
Aida Mulokozi, Rachel Lee and Diane Barbé The potential of Dar es Salaam's historical buildings and the need for an open dialogue	220-225	Contributors	310-315
Erica de Abreu Gonçalves and Marcelo Lages Murta Community voices and museums in Brazilian favelas	226-233	Simulizi Mijini / Urban Narratives	316-317
Vittoria Capresi Tell me about "your heritage": Oral history as a tool to raise awareness of built heritage and to rethink architecture	234-241	Acknowledgements	318
Rehema Chachage Daladala Diaries	242-247	Imprint	319
Maj Horn How to map coexistence in an urban landscape: An alternative guide to the city of Copenhagen	248-251
Gabi Dolf-Bonekämper and Anne-Katrin Fenk Stories. A third track in the heritage discourse	252-257
Monika Motylinska Communicating unwanted heritage? The case of the Technical City Hall in Frankfurt am Main	258-265		